

Sezione di Pescara

Description of the event "The consequences of intolerance", promoted by JEF-Pescara in the framework of the project "JEF-Europe for a tolerant, united Europe" promoted by JEF-Europe and funded by the Council of Europe

The event is structured into two appointments. Both of them received the patronage and the support from the Municipality of Montesilvano (Pescara), that is also supplying the venues. Another partner is the bookstore "On the Road - Libreria Interno 4".

Every appointment will foresee a public reading of two pieces selected from two books (for a total of 4 pieces) dealing with the topic chosen. After every reading, the 3 speakers invited for the event will share with the audience their thoughts about the pieces, adding other details on the topic, according to their experience, knowledge and sensitivity. After that, there will be space for a general debate with the audience. The overall estimated duration is of 120'.

The aim is to raise awareness, among the civil society, about intolerance and its consequences. The selected topics are indeed about the situations of European Countries in which intolerance, nationalism and similar processes led to war in recent times.

Following, the final program of the event:

Saturday, September the 20th, starting at 17:30
"Di Giacomo" hall (c/o Palazzo Baldoni)
piazza Indro Montanelli, Montesilvano (Pescara)
"The consequences of intolerance: Ukraine, border land"

- Selected books: "Ukraine, border land" by M. Di Pasquale
"Crimea war" by A. Caminiti
- Invited speakers: Carlo Prospero, political scientist, President of IAPSS
A representative of the Ukrainian community in Italy¹
Jacopo Barbati, Executive Board member of JEF-Italy

Saturday, September the 27th, starting at 17:30
Council hall (c/o Town Hall)
piazza Armando Diaz, Montesilvano (Pescara)
"The consequences of intolerance: Jugoslavia"

- Selected books: "Zlata's diary" by Z. Filipović
"The stars that stay below" by A. Nuhefendić
- Invited speakers: Persida Lazarević, Professor at University of Chieti-Pescara
Maristella Lippolis, writer
Matteo Sabini, political scientist

¹ Authorized by the Embassy of Ukraine in Italy. The name will be communicated by the Embassy to the organizers on Monday, September the 15th.